I. INTRODUCTION

The Planning & Research Unit, Administrative Division of the Rhode Island Department of Corrections (RIDOC) prepared this report. Data contained in the report were obtained through the Department's INFACTS (Inmate Tracking) and Probation & Parole Tracking System databases and analyzed by the Planning & Research Unit staff.

Additional copies of this report can be downloaded from the RIDOC website at www.doc.state.ri.us/administration/admin.htm. If you should require additional information regarding the information contained in this report, contact the Principal Research Technician at (401) 462-3924.

II. RIDOC DESCRIPTION AND DATA CAVEATS

RIDOC Description

Rhode Island operates a unified correctional system, meaning that all pretrial detainees and sentenced offenders (regardless of sentence length or crime) are under the jurisdiction of the Rhode Island Department of Corrections. RIDOC has eight (8) housing facilities on the Pastore Government Center Complex in Cranston, Rhode Island. For male inmates, the facilities include: a reception and diagnostic center which houses all pretrial detainees as well as newly sentenced offenders (Intake Service Center); one supermax (High Security Center); one maximum-security (Maximum); two medium-securities (Medium Moran and Medium Price); and one minimum-security building (Minimum). For females, there are two on-grounds facilities: the medium-security, which also houses pretrial females (Gloria McDonald Building), and the minimum-security (Dorothea Dix Building). Additionally, about a dozen sentenced females are housed in a transitional housing program (WTH). Both male and female offenders, awaiting trial and sentenced, also participate in the electronic monitoring program (Home Confinement).

Also included in this report are those inmates who have been transferred to the State's Department of Mental Health, Retardation & Hospital's Forensic Unit.

The RIDOC is also responsible for supervising all adult offenders who are in the community, but are under some form of community supervision (either Probation or Parole). The great majority of all sentenced offenders in Rhode Island receive a "split sentence," meaning that they spend some portion of time incarcerated at the RIDOC, followed by time on Probation.

Data Caveats

The majority of information in this report summarizes RIDOC's stock population on or about September 30, 2005. Stock data does not capture the flow of inmates into and out of Rhode Island's correctional system; instead, this is a "snapshot" of RIDOC's population on one particular day. Please pay special attention to the title of each graphic, as the title will indicate if the data is from a time period other than the stock date (i.e., fiscal year, calendar year).

Offense Categories

Throughout the report, type of offense is determined by the most serious charge for which the offender is sentenced to incarceration or community supervision. As an example, if an offender had both a drug charge and a sex charge, s/he would be captured in the sex category and not the drug category.

Race Categories

RIDOC records Hispanic as a race rather than as an ethnicity. As a result, we cannot determine whether inmates identifying themselves as Hispanic are white or black. Those identifying themselves as white or black may also be Hispanic.

Missing Data

Unfortunately, in some instances, data is missing from the source database. As a result, totals may not always add up to 100%.

III. TOTAL POPULATION STATISTICS

Summary:

The total prison population has experienced a net increase of 12% from FY96 to FY05.

The total population for FY05 averaged 5% lower than that of FY04. The awaiting trial population decreased by 10% from FY04 to FY05. The sentenced population also decreased from FY04 to FY05 (4%).

Summary:

The total sentenced population increased by 13% from January to December. Sentenced males increased by 13%, while sentenced females increased by 24%.

From January to December, the total awaiting trial population decreased by 11%. The male awaiting trial population decreased by 13%, while the female awaiting trial population increased by 11%.

Total Population Demographics (3,619)

- Included are Rhode Island offenders who are serving in Rhode Island (either in a secure facility, non-secure facility or on Home Confinement), and those offenders who are under another State's jurisdiction, but housed in Rhode Island.

- Offenders excluded from the summary statistics below are those offenders who are under Rhode Island jurisdiction, but serving out-of-state, and those offenders being detained by the INS or other Federal agency since this segment of the population fluctuates as a result of the true custodial population.

One hundred sixty-seven lifers (144 lifers, 23 lifers w/o parole) were included in the "sentence greater than 10 years" category. While lifers represented 6% of RIDOC's custodial population, 13 (10 lifers, 3 lifers w/o parole) of these inmates were under the jurisdiction of another state.

Rhode Island inmates who were serving out of state were excluded from the sentence length calculations.

SUMMARY:

For each offender under the supervision of probation and parole, the case is categorized as either felony, misdemeanor, family court, interstate or bail supervision.

Bail Supervision cases are offenders whose cases have not yet been adjudicated, but are being supervised by a Probation and Parole Officer.

Cases identified as interstate cases are being supervised by Rhode Island Probation and Parole Officers, but the offender was adjudicated in a state other than Rhode Island. For those cases, we are unable to identify whether they are felony or misdemeanor cases, so they are reported separately as Interstate.

Family Court cases are Rhode Island adults under the jurisdiction of the Family Court for offenses that have been referred by the prosecutor for charges generally related to child or family matters.

If an offender has more than one crime, the most serious crime dictates the felony/misdemeanor status.

At the time of this analysis, the majority of all offenders (68%) were under supervision for a felony offense.

NOTE: One offender was missing information regarding their case category. As a result, this offender was not counted in the table above.
